In a moment of clarity, by a stream in the Colorado Mountains Grammy Award Winning Producer Barry Goldstein conceptualised the Album "Element 5, The Lost Key". In listening to the natural rhythms around him he discovered the common denominators in nature and music. The vibration of the earth, the whispers and movement of the air, the passion of the fire and the rhythm and flow of the water moving over the rocks. The excitement of combining these elements within musical composition and incorporating the 5th element, the ether or in this instance his spirit set the composer on his journey to completing this album. Combining resonant and earthy tones, airy luscious breathy pads, passionate and fiery melodies with underwater like flowing rhythms and his own unique production style "Element 5", The Lost Key was formed.
