Stephanie von Buchau, Oakland Tribune (Syndicated to many papers) ( 9-24-04) "A COMPELLING, SELF-PENNED, SELF PERFORMED RECITAL FROM AN URGENT BUT ELUSIVE ARTIST- Vivid, Entrancing, and Remarkable: The composer plays his own scores with all the urgency and commitment one would expect from a performer who knows the music from the inside out. There isn't a wasted gesture or hesitant moment in these interpretations. The intimate acoustics enhance Lewis's restrained virtuosity." Donald Rosenberg: Gramophone Magazine, London, England: December 2003 (Special Feature Review) "Peter Scott Lewis is featured here as the soloist in his own four-movement Three Suites, works that show off the formidable technique Lewis commands - his right hand is particularly amazing, capable of the most fleet-flowing repeated notes. Tuneful and highly rhythmic, the suites (especially the last one) have an improvisational feel, with repeated passages that alter slightly and gradually metamorphose into completely different material." By Melinda Bargreen: Seattle Times (5-11-03) "A wonderful CD. Exquisite!" J.L. Bueno, La Otra Musica, FM80, Cadiz, Spain (4-28-03) "The guitar suites are wonderfully haunting. I remember what Stravinsky said about the guitar: not small but as from far away. The music brings those distances home. I've listened to it over and over. Bravo!" J.D. McClatchy, Editor: The Yale Review (4-18-03) For more reviews, biographical information, list of compositions, and list of recordings, please go to Lapis Island Records (lapisisland.com), or the Composer's Page at Theodore Presser Co.
