At age five, she began taking voice lessons at Texas Christian University. Dreaming of becoming a performing artist, she continues singing her way to success. She currently resides in New York City, and attends the Manhattan School of Music. Her passion for music is un-stoppable. Reaching her goals has led her on an unforgettable journey. Studying at the renowned Stagedoor Manor in New York to Camp Broadway are just a few of her incredible experiences. As a student at the Fort Worth Academy of Performing Arts where their mission was to train and develop students to become world-class artists, she thrived. As her vocal lessons evolved, so did her dream of becoming a performing artist. Still seeking to broaden her skills in vocal performance, she continues to take voice lessons in opera and pop music. She has just released her second album, Euphoria, which is a striking mixture of pop and R&B. Each song carries her own unique blend of style with a signature sound that you cant forget. Tags: pop
