The latest release from award winning Western Americana singer songwriter Dakota Sid and his son, Travers Clifford along with the Badland Serenaders, live and kickin' 15 MP3 Songs COUNTRY: Country Folk, FOLK: Modern Folk Details: Dakota Sid Hes got the songs and stories that can take you from laughter to deep thought in a matter of moments. Peter Berkow, Chico News and Review For a guy who looks way traditional, Dakota Sids raspy vocals are surprisingly contemporary, somewhere between early Jimmy Buffett and latter day Guy Clark. Dave Hoekstra, Chicago Sun Times Dakota Sid comes on with a voice that was rode hard and put away wet. It aint pretty, thats for sure. He sings like he has a corncob stuck in his throat. Thats all right though. This aint opera, its folk music, and in that context Dakota Sid, his voice, his material and his ethics all seem as genuine as Woody Guthrie sounding off at a labor rally. Charlie Creekmore, Chico News and Review His style is distinctly his own, a musician who blends the best elements of Folk and Country to produce completely unique compositions. Sierra Life Magazine After twenty five years on the road, Dakota Sid could have been a burnout case. Instead, as the years passed, his songs took on a lyrical and emotional honesty that grabs an audience in the gut His best songs reach across boundaries and draw people together. Bill Varble, Medford Mail Tribune
