Check out free samples of the vast compilation of dj mixes this compilation was inspired by, and buy one for just $5: geocities.com/jahfirm2 If you like your music unique, experimental, but deep enough to just kick back with the bass turned up, then this is the album for you. Years in the making, this dub trip through bassland will surely leave your electroencephelograph in the alpha brain wave pattern and induce a calming hemispheric lateralization. So kick back, turn down the lights and take an auditory trip through time. Long ago, in a galaxy far within your astral mind, vibration resonated... From this one sound came all creation. Then came auditory dissonance, deharmonizing with chaotic beats... But there was still one hope for peace, one rhythm that could heal... The people mounted their headphones and heard the synergistic harmonics... the heavens and earth rejoiced at the rebirth of universal harmony... You too can join the struggle for cosmic synchronicity... Mount your headphones now... and journey back to the Diverse Unity of One... Jahfirm is a spontaneous collective of like-minded souls, performing artistic renderings of auditory vibrations. Congealed to resolve dissonant wave files by creating universal harmonics and healing, we support equal rights and world justice through conscious empowerment. I cried chords and scales as an infant, created my own songs as a kid, played every instrument I could touch and find passion in the touch of sound.
