What started out as sketches of dreams, words, harmonies, found sounds, melodies and movie rescoring has culminated into a series of audio tracks found on this CD. 15 MP3 Songs ELECTRONIC: Trip Hop, ELECTRONIC: Industrial Show all album songs: In Dreams of Something New I Have Not Been Well... Songs Details: Named "Windsor's best band: 2006" by CJAM 91.5; "not_digital have masterfully managed to combine electronic, trip-hop and industrial" "a self described organic electronics concept that could double as the score of a noirish art-house sci-fi/horror drama. NOT_digital is less about catchy tunes than it is about conjuring a setting. While there are melodies and rhythms to be found amongst Ingalls array of computer-driven keyboards and synthesized beats, the musics strength lies in building an environment." The Windsor Star "...(NOT_digital) have masterfully managed to combine electronic, trip-hop and industrial sounds into a gorgeous collage of music, have been working very hard this past year, playing in support of their fantastic release, 'in dreams of something new i have not been well'. If you haven't heard it yet, find a copy. It's easily on of 2005's finest releases." Upfront Magazine "a clever if underappreciated combination of electronic, trip-hop and industrial soundscapes. almost the dark electronic version of what M.C. Escher's paintings would sound like put to music." Windsor Scene "This last band Im going to play blew me away; it was the peak of the night for me... (clutch cargo's 04|18|06) Two guys and their stage presence is incredible, so if you ever have an opportunity to go and see them make sure you see them... Half way through Achilles I was not even in my own body it just blew me away! I will defiantly go see these guys again!" Industrial Radio Podcast
