Dark ambient accented with driving beats and lucid vocals. 7 MP3 Songs ELECTRONIC: Ambient, ROCK: Kraut Rock Show all album songs: RFCL Live at Godspeed Songs Details: "Radio Free Clear Light- Live at Godspeed" was recorded during a ritual performance in Oakland, California in July 2007. Here, the usual suspects gathered to wreak havoc on the unsuspecting ears of the Bay Area Swan Collective along with other poets, the steel horse artists and patrons of Godspeed. Kyrons live electronic improv was augmented by the driving beats provided by Jim Sienkiewicz and the vocal improvisations of Etanna Zak and Lydia Harari. The result is a sound just smooth enough to swallow, laced with a seductive krautrock bite, subtly reminiscent of Can. Born in the moment, each track documents a unique chamber within the ritual space. Sometimes ambient and reflective, sometimes drilled with body rocking beats, this is music that travels from point to point, playing like a motion picture soundtrack. The transitions are so smooth its hard to tell when one track ends and another starts. Haunting vocals, tribal beats, space age blip, and sinister loops give musical expression to high experience with all of its horror and delight. Captured for you on this 50 min disc is the dungeon like atmosphere of Godspeed transformed by the demented beauty that lived there for one night, before slipping away into the dark in search of a new host.
