Stanley Grimm is a celebration of Irish tradition through jigs, reels, and song with lively fiddle, guitar and voice. 12 MP3 Songs FOLK: Traditional Folk, WORLD: Celtic Details: About the Band "Stanley Grimm" celebrate the Irish tradition through jigs, reels, and songs with lively fiddle, guitar, voice and good humor. Fiddler Nikki Engstrom and guitarist and vocalist Sean Brennan came together in February 2006 and performs an exciting upbeat mix of traditional Celtic tunes and songs. Nikki Engstrom Nikki Engstrom has delighted audiences for over two decades with her spirited, sometimes whimsical jigs, reels, and aires. Growing up in Western Massachusetts, Nikki was surrounded by her musical family. She and her siblings traveled throughout New England and Canada where her fiddling earned her many awards most recently the 2006 "Trick and Fancy" Championship at the New England Fiddle Contest. Sean Brennan Sean Brennan is a singer/songwriter who has been singing ballads and backing traditional players on guitar in sessions on Cape Cod for over 10 years. His warm mellow vocals coupled with his love for music make him a sought after accompanist. His spontaneous light humor adds to the enjoyment of their live performances. Not only do these two perform as a duo but they are very involved in keeping traditional music alive, teaching workshops and playing at sessions throughout the area. It is this sincere combination of love of music, talent and good humor that has culminated in audiences requesting a recording. They are pleased to announce their self-titled debut CD. If you like their music don't miss the opportunity to see this accomplished duo live.
