Syrupy Trip-hop. A mix of chilled grooved beats and serene piano samples. Make love and war simultaneously. 11 MP3 Songs ELECTRONIC: Down Tempo, ELECTRONIC: Trip Hop Details: Portland's dj tan't [Paul Lynch] discovered the coolness of djing as soon as he popped out of his momma. For his 3rd birthday he was gifted two fisher price turntables and started rockin that shizzle...he then threw a temper tantrum and broke them. Inspired by indy rock, paul started playing guitar in bands Carpathia and Only Connect during his college years. He also dj'ed at KZUU (a college radio station at WSU) where he expanded his knowledge on to hip-hop and electronic music. When Paul broke his guitar and amp from a temper tantrum, he moved to Upstate New York. There he spun jungle, drum n' bass and breakbeats while djing for the college radio station, WSUC. He broke that too. After relocating to Portland, Paul became better known as Tantrum (dj tan't). He started a revolution by sampling layers of hip-hop beats and composing classical piano parts from fellow messiah, Tyler Evans. Teamed with Evans this unstoppable force started wrecking everything in its path and throwing the biggest tantrum mankind has ever seen.
