This odd juxtaposition has yielded some of the simultaneously most absurd and disturbing, yet most dancy and upbeat tracks from many of today's popular indie and sub-indie bands. Here is a description of a few of the album's highlights: David Figurine "Lil' Hormoneo" - This perverted track turns the clock forward just enough to hear what Lil' Romeo will sound like after he goes through puberty. Figurine at a rare, shameless moment, yet just as beautiful as their recent March records release, Slowcoach "ODB, Fuck Master P" - This Silvergirl Records band masterfully bends their Superchunk/emo sound around fast paced Southern Bounce beats, in order to point out that Old Dirty Bastard is a better rapper than Master P. Well, maybe in their book... Books On Tape "Truckin" - This up-and-coming electronic star provides a humorous political commentary on the absurdity behind a bunch of "white" indie bands doing a tribute to anything hip hop at all. Radio Vago "Radio P" - With the help of Books On Tape, the leaders of LA's current electro-punk scene mutate the No Limit sound into militant feminism.
