ELECTRONIC: Trip Hop, WORLD: World Fusion Details: Xnorophis has just finished the debut CD, The Tale of the Forgotten Key. Four years in the making and is already getting wide recognition. Xnorophis was voted Trip Hop artist of the year 2006 by the LA Music Awards, and the track Starlite is featured in the promo for the new NBC series Heroes. The story of Xnorophis: Alien experiments currently exist on our planet today. The most successful was the first cross breed between Martian and Human through artificial insemination. The result was the birth of a highly developed species that possess all the psychic powers of a martian together with the emotional qualities of a human. His name is George Xnorophis. Its not clear as to his time of birth, but as his presence grows stronger on Earth, he is able to channel his thoughts to musicians who are receptive to them. The music reflects George Xnorophis's current mental state.
