"Who Wants To Know How To Produce Quality Low Cost And High End Products That Draws Customers Like Bees To Honey?" Dear Internet Marketer: Common sense dictates that sales people thrive by closing deals. More deals equals more commissions. Its that simple. What is slightly more complex, however, is winning a prospect's trust in order for them to part with a bigger sum of money to purchase a higher end or high ticket product. So many marketers start with the low cost or low ticket items. Then comes the big challenge: How should they move on to sell mid ticket or mid-range items? What are good mid range items? How long must they sell low and mid ticket items before they can sell the premium products? Which is why the concept of 'upselling' is one that is effective but even more so if it follows a proven system. In this case, it is the Profit Funnel low ticket items at the bottom of the pyramid, followed by middle then at the apex, high ticket items. Sounds well and good but what sort of products do I sell at each stage? Do I actually have to buy them or can I create them myself? I'm glad you asked, and the very answer to your question is the introduction of: Introducing: Profit Funnel Secrets - Powerful Quality Products To Market That Will Make Customers Come Back For More!
