

Mp3 Geoff Oelsner - Morning Branches

Fourteen original folked-up songs and three poems accompanied by Geoff Oelsner on guitar, harmonium, mountain dulcimer and (mouth)harp: international anthems, alchemical love songs, and tunes to tickle you. 17 MP3 Songs FOLK: Modern Folk, SPOKEN WORD: With Music Details: My musical sensibilities spring from silence, from inwardly heard words and melodies, and secondarily from influences as diverse as Turlough O'Carolan, Bessie Jones, the great modern Scottish bard/player Robin Williamson, and Bob Dylan. In recent years, an increasing number of my songs have come to me in dreams. My wife and I have been gigging around Fayetteville, Arkansas for 25 years. I love to do street singing, benefits, house concerts, and performances at libraries and schools and churches. Lots of the time I read my poetry, accompanied by harmonium, psaltry, or an Indian instrument called the shruti box. Leslie I enjoy singing acapella numbers, too. We hope to make a joyful noise and to offer folks something real and affectionate and down-home.
