You will hear bird sounds in the third piece, which also features some harpsichord and English Horn. Happy clarinet and violin sounds appear in the fifth track, and the sound of trumpet shows up in the seventh track. The last track goes from classical style into new age, with swing rhythm and happy violin sounds by the end. Enjoy while you go within... If you use this music to reflect or meditate, consider for a moment that at the bottom of a temporary feeling of stress there might be an unfulfilled need of you inner self, of your "inner child". What better way to treat your stress than listening to your inner child's feelings, giving expression, pampering and amusement to this inner child while dreaming constructively? This album will help you do that. Just listen to the music and let you mind flow with it. Be with yourself while you enjoy this sweet music and pay attention to your feelings. Feel free to dream. Let your inspiration be. Do so with a sparkle of FUN. This is not intended to be a too formal or solemn meditative journey. Your delight is important. You might remember, for example, the happiness you had as a child while watching funny cartoons, and bring it back with songs like "Playful Bear" and "Dancing Elephant". The playful rhythms at the end of the third, ninth and tenth songs are also intended for your delight. All in balance with the inspirational melodies of the rest of the album. In terms of Ayurveda, Expression, Javier Ramon Brito's first album, achieves a fine musical balance to help pacify the three doshas (Vata, Pitta and Kapha) that we all people have in different proportions. It will give you calm, peace of mind and inspiration. Javier Ramon Brito has also produced the Albums "GRATITUDE", "TRUST" and "PEACE", available from CD Baby.
