They set out wanting to make different music from what they heard everyday. The first song was a Rap/Rock mixture called, "The Brand New" from their first album Shadow. D.Nasty would make the drum tracks and S Man original member Mattson would play guitar over them. Then MC Marc, D.Nasty original member DSlick would Rap. The entire album became a Rap/Rock mixture with 16 tracks finished in March of 2005. Then in May of 2005, they released a 5 song EP called, "Doomology". The big difference in this album was that it was completely produced by S Man and there was only one song with guitar. There were no features on the EP except for a verse by DSlick. Doom Crew helped produce and featured on their friend NeXXGeNs 3rd album, Wrote Dis On Da Bus in late September 2005. S Man produced 5 of their beats, MC Marc featured on 6 songs and D.Nasty featured on 9. This pairing turned into its own group, called GetEm GoonZ. Doom Crew produces all their own music and writes all their own lyrics. All 3 members collaborate together to come up with the songs that they release. Its definitely a group effort. Whenever they work with other artists, they also put their minds together with those artists to make the most original music they can. As theyve been making more and more music, theyve decided to start their own label, which they call DOOM ENTERTAINMENT. As of right now there are no artists signed to the label, seeing as they are still in the early stages of their music careers. Be on the lookout for Doom Crew, coming soon to a sound system near you!
