Details: Since teaming up as a touring duo in late 2007, Albany, CA and Nashville, TN bluegrass mainstays Bill Evans Megan Lynch have been performing all around the United States and in the United Kingdom and Ireland. Spanning a thirty-five year professional performing career, banjo player and "Banjo For Dummies" author Bill Evans has performed with Dry Branch Fire Squad, Peter Rowan, David Grisman, Hazel Dickens, Laurie Lewis, Jody Stecher, Kathy Kallick, Bluegrass Intentions and his own Bill Evans String Summit. His two CDs "Native and Fine" (Rounder Records) and "Bill Evans Plays Banjo" (Native and Fine Records) topped critics' lists and the "Bluegrass Unlimited" charts. Folks know Nashville resident Megan Lynch from her National Championship fiddling credentials and from her performances with 3 Fox Drive, Due West, Dale Ann Bradley, Tony Trischka, Chris Jones, Roland White and Jim Hurst. Together, Bill Evans Megan Lynch make music thats going to surprise you. It's much more than a fiddle and banjo duo. While virtuosic instrumental work is to be expected from these musicians, its the outstanding lead singing of Megan and the pairs rich duo vocal sound that is a revelation. Drawing on singer-songwriter and alternative rock sources as much as traditional old-time and bluegrass music, the duo creates music thats intensely intimate but truly difficult to categorize. While rooted in bluegrass tradition, Bill Evans and Megan Lynch display a natural and unassuming sophistication that reflects their wide-ranging interest in many kinds of contemporary and popular music. The new CD "lets do something" is produced by Sam Bush Band guitar player Steve Mougin and was recorded in Nashville in the summer of 2008. Featuring richly textured soundscapes of multiple fiddles and banjos matched to Megan and Bills voices, the project features new takes on compositions from Deb Tannen, Nick Drake, John Gorka, Mark Knopfler, Van Morrison, Teitur, and the rock bands Editors and We The Kings along with two new instrumental tunes written by Bill Evans. Live, Bill plays acoustic and electric banjo and guitar while Megan plays fiddle. What folks are saying about "let's do something..." by Bill Evans Megan Lynch: This is a hugely exciting album! The singings exquisite, the playings completely masterly and tasteful (not a lick fiesta), the songwriting kills..Nick Drake, Mark Knopfler, Van Morrison, and a host of others, intensely snazzy production, and its freshreally fresh. This music demands repeated listenings to catch all the nuances and to savor a brand new sound coming full-blown from two of todays most forward-thinking and accomplished acoustic musicians. Tony Trischka "The breadth and depth of the duets on Let's Do Something... is jaw-dropping, but Bill and Megan are more than the sum of two virtuoso musicians. Together, they prove that the fiddle/banjo is made for any genre when it's done with imagination and passion." Chris Stuart, IBMA Print Media Person of the Year
