Storm E Weather Best selling book/CD of Poetic observations Contact Desmond Storm E Jones StormE@StormEweather.com The E, in Storm E should stand for Emotional, as the series of poems covers the broadest range of emotional conditions; like the weather. With selections like: As Is, Can I please see my kids, Recognize Game, Ready made Family and That's not my Name (This poem introduced Storm E to his national audience on the late night network television show "It's Showtime at the Apollo") The charged imagery of his carefully crafted poetry strikes even deeper when heard from the voice of the Author himself. It is there, from his own words, that he shares life experiences with hair rasing power, social, political, humorous, witty and flat out entertaining commentaries. A rare and thrilling listening or reading experience; guaranteed to be on the other side of the world from the common clich poetry. Cumulatively, the series of short stories and poetry reveal the life blood of expression. Desmond Storm E Jones a dramatic voice, with sweeping visions transforming experience into art. ***Reviews*** "A powerful performance poet, made the strongest impact on a showcase that featured no other poetry. Storm E took the audience on a rollercoaster ride with a dramatic series of pointed observations about life in contemporary America. This poet/actor became a fatherless child confronting his mama and a crack baby fighting for identity - eased into some humor with Got Milk (Tyrone's remix) a tongue-in-cheek commercial by a lactose intolerant hero. The hair-raising power and humane comedy of the poet's eloquently spoken words, were heightened by the electrifying energy of his physical presence. It's no wonder he was chosen to appear on the late night network television show, It's Showtime at the Apollo.

StacyReads@*****.com You are goood!! I really enjoyed the poetry. Wanted to hear it all. The truth is what it is. No holds barred. Well!!! Testimony was great. Butterscotch Sensuality took me where I reaaaalllly didn't want to go, but hey, all is well (smile).Don't Call Me That pretty much summed it up from the heart of a crack baby; got a few in my family. Got a niece that needs to hear it; born from a mother who smoked the entire pregnancy and still smokes 13 years later. You are anointed to do what you do. Praise Him!!!
