Singer/Songwriter Pop-Rock that tackles the issues of growing up, moving on, and saying goodbye. 12 MP3 Songs POP: Beatles-pop, FOLK: Folk Pop Details: Jeremy was born and raised just North of Chicago. Ever since he was young he found refuge and passion in film, music, and theatre. His first real moments with performing were brought about by elementary school musicals. He remained a part of the musical scene into high school where he met and began composing pop songs with Rob Newman. As a result of their meeting he picked up the guitar in March of 1995. In April of 2001 he began composing songs for his first release Forcythia. This full length album, released in February 2002, was created in the comfort of his own home and featured many different kinds of songs but focused on honoring the memory of his mother, Cynthia. The album only has vocals and guitar and all parts are played by Jeremy himself. In August of 2002 he moved to San Francisco. Overwhelmed with all of the transitions, his new job, and his new place in the world he began writing again. A year later he approached producer Jerry Becker with twelve original songs. Six more weeks passed and The Goodbye Project was born. Like its predecessor, the songs are emotionally reflective. The lyrics deal with themes of loss and pain and give a very personal flavor to the album. Unlike Forcythia, The Goodbye Project features a full band sound and was recorded, mixed, and mastered professionally. Jeremy is the kind of musician who will make your heart melt with his songs while you find yourself rolling with laughter. The Goodbye Project is a collection of intimate songs all dealing with the idea of Goodbye. The songs contained within were written as the songwriter, Jeremy Round, transitioned from his hometown Chicago, where he was born and raised, to a life in Northern California as a teacher and entertainer. Love loss, near death experiences, literary references, internal struggles with holding the memory of his lost mother and moving on with his life, and teaching in an urban setting are just a few of the themes. Songs are often likened to those of The Beatles, Dave Matthews,

Guster, John Mayer, Barenaked Ladie, Jon Brion, Jethro Tull, Aimee Mann, The Pixies and more.
