He does not do this for the possible money or fame.....he simply does it for the passion! The music he hears in his head is now recorded for anyone to hear. It cannot be described as one genre.....infact it can actually be called a mixed bag of soft rock, easy listening, and some tracks can even be considered somewhat country. Chris has dedicated this CD to his three children. His children became the driving force for this project. He knew that through his music, one day when he is gone from this earth, his children will forever have a part of his heart and soul in this CD. This is his gift to them!!!! He has created an original straight ahead infectious sound. His music is simplistic in nature, yet, meaningful and speak to your emotions. You must be warned that these songs will prove to be habit forming, and you will feel compelled to listen to them over and over again. You cannot loose at the price he is selling them for.
