Original music composed for and performed on classical guitar, kind of classical/folk style; labeled by one as dance of the soul music. 11 MP3 Songs CLASSICAL: New Age, SPIRITUAL: Inspirational Details: I began studying the classical guitar at age 15, and later played in a New Age folk-rock band called Anahata. In 1978 I began the serious study of classical music, under the tutelage of Celin Romero, of the world-famous Romero Guitar Quartet. I started my college and university studies in 1979, and graduated from San Diego State University with a Bachelor's Degree in Music in 1983 (and was selected as the Outstanding Graduate of the Year by the music department faculty). Two years later I received my Masters Degree, also from SDSU. In 1995 I began composing my own music for the classical guitar, and that is mostly the music I play today. I currently have one solo recording available, Songs Without Words, and have played on many other recordings with former Anahata band members Timmaris McDowell and Diane Bardwell, and others. My music and playing also appear on several audios and videos of yoga postures and guided meditations. I have composed more than 50 pieces for the classical guitar, with more appearing all the time.
