Dirty folk roll. Back porch music for a front porch world. 12 MP3 Songs FOLK: Folk-Rock, BLUES: Folk-Blues Show all album songs: Sing! Songs Details: Whether singing about love gone bad or redefining storytelling through music, The Hobo Nephews continue to push the boundaries of contemporary folk and Americana music. Mixing acoustic ballads with dirty blues stomps, brothers Teague and Ian Alexy have formed a veritable super-group featuring members of Broken Billy and The Feelin Band. SING! also includes friends Ryan Young (Pert Near Sandstone) on violin, vocalist Molly Maher, guitarist Erik Koskinen, The Floorbirds and pedal steel player Joe Savage. With lyrics both inspirational and poignant, The Hobo Nephews exploded onto the midwestern scene in 2005. Like Bob Dylan in reverse, they traveled from the East coast and landed on Duluth's north shore, searching for the roots of American music. Putting their own unique flavor onto a mixture of folk, blues and bluegrass, their self-titled debut earned them rave reviews and prompted a Best Song nomination for their track Minnesota Song by the Northland Reader. Indie-Musicremarked, this debut record shows a band that has the basics down cold (no pun intended on Minnesota) and who seems ready to push the envelope to create new and interesting soundscapes. They are two-year veterans of 10,000 Lakes Festival, and are coming out of a summer that saw them headlining New Earth Festival and giving stellar sets at Feel Good Festival, Harvest Fest, and Log Jam.
