torontobluessociety.com/mba/ The Blue Voodoo is an experienced, energetic and motivated trio who creates their own unique blend of acoustic roots and blues-rock. A scotch-fuelled combination of Muddy Waters with Ben Harper and Dave Matthews, The Blue Voodoo were born out of the Vancouver area in early 2001. The band plays 2-4 shows/week with phenomenal success to an ever-increasing number of fans have just released their first album, RIDE. Their energy and vibe cooks both live on stage and in the studio and casts a powerful spell over everyone in their path. Ted "Teddy J" Tosoff

Vocals/Guitars/Voodoo Magic "Old enough to know better....older than I'd wish to share. Along with family and friends, music is my Lifeblood. Playing, recording and writing music is all I've really known or cared for. I guess, for me...this thing called The Blue Voodoo is a musical soul-cleansing and the sum of all I have done. It's the one thing that pushes me to succeed while keeping the road of life an interesting bit of pavement." Rick "the devil" Dalgarno Vocals/Guitar/Voodoo Magic "Arrived April 20, 1968 Right from my first Beatles record, Sgt.Pepper (the one that my dad played over and over again), I knew I'd want to be involved in music. I have been a part of many musical projects, but none have captured the essence that The Blue Voodoo manages to. For me, the Voodoo sound and appearance lets me be me - if that makes any sense. There is a weird magic in our three-way circle that can only be described as THE VOODOO feeling." Chris "O-tay" Weekes Vocals/Crazy Percussion/Voodoo Magic "Yes.... I was born.... I stumbled into these guys at a local jam...went back the next week...and, God have mercy on my soul....the deal was done. Soul, heart and vibe..that is The Blue Voodoo. Blues without rules! From Barbados to B.C. and beyond... What a trip!" the blue voodoo are: rick dalgarno: vocals/guitar ted tosoff:
