Previously a drummer, Jason was soon drawn to the guitar, although some would say the guitar was drawn to him. With his incredible sense of rhythm and melody, Jason was immediately creating unique music, which would become his signature. "It's hard to categorize my music sometimes because some songs just come from two different planets," says Jason of his latest project. It's easy to understand the diversity and structure of his music when you look at the musical influences that have touched him over the course of his career. Guitarists like Stevie Ray Vaughn, Jimmy Hendrix, and Randy Rhodes, along with the musical works of Elton John, Bad Brains, and Jane's Addiction, have all provided Jason with guidance and inspiration to strive for individuality and not limit oneself. Originally a self-taught guitarist, Jason would soon seek professional teachings in blues, jazz, rock and even classical guitar. His diverse background and adaptability has allowed Jason to log numerous hours as a studio session musician, as well as, perform with bands like Talon, The Guild, Dixie Rockets, Perfect Thyroid, Scratch Baxter, The Reptiles, Johnny Most Project, Chris Max, PeaceBomb, Taylor Made, Outloud Dreamer, Three, Lunch Meat, Paxton and currently, his newly titled band dONOVANS dREAMERS. Jason has also performed on stage with the likes of Lenny Kravitz, and Matt Chamberlin.(Pearl Jam, Edie Brickell the new Bohemians, the Wallflowers) Playing onstage is where Jason thrives. He has showcased his talents, along with his energy and enthusiasm to perform at Webster Hall, CBGB's, The China Club and Irving Plaza in New York City, Northstar Bar in Philadelphia, Mama Kin's and the Middle East Club in Boston, Pleasure Island at Walt Disney World in Orlando, as well as, The Chance and the Mid-Hudson Civic Center in Poughkeepsie, New York, opening for the likes of Spin Doctors, Cake, Bad Brains, B-52's, Fiona Apple, Fishbone, Joan Osborne, Tower of Power, Goo Goo Dolls, Marcy Playground, Third Eye Blind, Live, Collective Soul, Sheryl Crow, Dishwalla and Candlebox, to name a few. Whether it's for a crowd of a hundred or 350,000, Jason always comes ready to perform. Jason has been fortunate enough to be a part of performances at Woodstock '94, Woodstock '99, A Day In The Garden '97 (Bethel, NY), ASCAP ANNIVERSARY Party, Grassroots Festival '96,'97,'98 (Trumansburgh, NY), CMJ Music Marathon '94 (New York, NY) and the 1994 KISS Convention. Jason's talents and aspirations continue to evolve as he rekindles a career with his 1999 band "dONOVANS dREAMERS". Jason steps to the forefront, taking control of the lead vocals. his smooth, mid-range voice and straight forward lyrics convey an emotion, feeling and uniqueness that is accented by his ever present guitar, and the solid foundation in which joe cuchelo(bass) and dave bodie(drums) provide unlike any other.
