Details: Ruby Rivers, despite its young faces and young voices, is a music project over thirty years in the making. Named after front-woman, Crystal Ponzio's mother's 1970's West Texas folk band, the new millennium version has made its home in New York City. Today, the Ruby Rivers sound is an eclectic and soulful mix of indie pop and alternative country with nostalgic melodies and harmonies reminiscent of the band's first generation. Fall 2008 marks the release of Ruby Rivers' first EP, Pretty Little Lady, produced and engineered at Shirk Music and Sound in Chicago. The songs are simple and somewhat quirky and are evident of the band's curiosity for new instrumentation. Pretty Little Lady's release has been supported by a slew of live shows in New York, LA and Chicago. In August 2008, Ruby Rivers was invited to perform at the SPIN Music Lounge at Lollapalooza in Chicago where they shared the stage with the likes of Butch Walker, Tally Hall and MTV's Human Giant. After playing for several packed houses in NYC at venues such as the Living Room, the Canal Room and Rockwood Music Hall, the band was invited to showcase at the CMJ Music Marathon in October 2008. The coming months promise to be very exciting for Ruby Rivers as they embark on a West Coast tour and begin recording their second EP in NYC. Their songs will also begin appearing across film and television in early 2009.
