Energizing, deep, intimate and joyful worship music in richly-textured styles and artists take your heart higher toward Love. 12 MP3 Songs GOSPEL: Contemporary Gospel, CLASSICAL: Contemporary Details: Be drawn to God by this energizing and deep album, "Taken by Love." With it find your heart stirred and taken higher toward Love. This intimate yet joyful collection in wide-ranging styles within the Christian worship music tradition is performed by the gifted soloists and artists of Songs In His Presence. Well-crafted woodwinds, strings, guitar, piano, and percussion fittingly render the inspired songwriting of its seven composers. The CD's twelve richly-textured arrangements include seven songs for worship, four Psalms in responsorial style, and an instrumental meditation. This album has taken many by surprise from trade shows to nationwide radio, people stop and listen. I can't get away from this music there is something about it that draws me. The prayerful surrender of each songwriter and singer to Christ and the collaborative aspect of its recording process come out powerfully and infectious. With Zack Stachow's masterful violin and Inez Gavriliades's first words of Ed Conlins Our Hearts Will Rise, so will your heart rise. Following the energizing worship of that first track you are drawn into Ed's setting of the contemplative "Prayer of Augustine" interpreted by Adam Plomaritas of the band Christopher Adam. Your journey soars with Sr. Stacy Whitfield's majestic Psalm 42: Like a Deer then steps lightly to In Your Light by John Keating. A contemporary Israeli-style setting of Psalm 16: You are My Inheritance by Mike Giszczak invites celebration with soloist, choir, klezmer clarinet and tambourine. "Taken by Love" often hints toward Advent (e.g., "Like a Son of Man"), expressing our heart's longings for the coming of Christ and of Heaven, our home, themes to inspire at any time of year. Soloists and choir lend to the excitement of the Incarnation with His Name Will Be Called and Glory Cry the Angel Choirs. In the opening minute of that piece, a flock of angels in ethereal chant gather above the Christ Child. Heavenly choirs reverberate again in the Hymn of Heaven, tenderly introduced by Christina Thomashefski. The album nears its end with the jubilant gospel-style Psalm 122: Let Us Go Rejoicing proclaimed by Amy Righi, David White and choir. The closing instrumental meditation features oboe, guitar, and cello. "Taken by Love" appeals to a trans-generational and trans-denominational audience, even touching hearts unfamiliar with the Love it conveys. A piano/guitar/vocal songbook and octavos are also available from the publisher at SongsInHisPresence.com, making its unique songs accessible both in recorded and printed forms.
