Simpson Artist Bio Darick J. Simpson has written hundreds of poems and lyrics on the subjects of life and love. His first book released in February 2002 entitled Who Will Be There focuses on poems and lyrics of unconditional love. Each selection in this book was inspired by personal encounters, or, thoughts shared between lovers, parents, friends and youth that he has known. Reviews on this project reveal that every reader finds at least one poem that touches their heart or provokes deep thought. To accompany this book Darick teamed with acclaimed musical composer and arranger, Thomas Dawson to create a CD. The CD project has a smooth jazz flavor with Daricks resonate voice eloquently reciting fifteen of his favorite selections. Listeners across America are talking about the sensuous mood and provocative thoughts that a quiet moment listening can create. The creative talents of Darick Simpson and Thomas Dawson combined to create a new dimension of poetic expression that is sure to please.
