This album is Acoustic/folk and Electric/Ambient worship for our Lord Jesus Christ. 19 MP3 Songs in this album (54:21) ! Related styles: FOLK: Fingerstyle, ELECTRONIC: Ambient Details: For many years, music and faith were two separate objects in my life on different paths, seeking different destinations. Both have meant a great deal to my life, as each has, in its own beauty, provided me with means to speak and express myself anew. There was a point not too long ago when I realized one had to be chosen over the other, my dream or my life. I tell people the only two influences I name to be mine are my brother, and Jesus Christ. Each, in it's own light, has revealed something to me that has brought me to the exact chair that I sit in right now while typing. My brother posed the musical influence, and Christ my reason for it. Why I still continue even touching an instrument and writing music has established a completely new world of meaning since my connection into the walk with Jesus. During August 2007 I began recording with Producer and Engineer Andy Lundman. The album features a compilation of styles and connects a fusion of Analog and digital sound structure. Acoustical Songs such as "The Right Man" open the organics of instruments and human voice. Folk music lays the foundational arrangement, but the lyrical story brings it up to date with the relevant message of Christ. Electrical Pieces such as "Marriage as One Flesh" emphasize on the refined emotion of ambient guitars rather than vocals. In this, the music speaks for itself. Both pieces are featured in the enclosed demo. This music is for conversational purposes, between listener and artist. The whole album contains various events others and I have experienced and/or thought about. All the pieces have a reason, but each piece has separate definition or story.
