Lily has taken her message and inspirational music throughout the country, performing at many regional events, concerts, and festivals. Regardless of age, gender, ethnicity or musical preference, her music is for everyone and consists of songs, which tell stories from her very own life. Through the power of the Internet Lily continues to reach her fans all over the world including countries like Australia and Canada. Her fan base ranges from young school children to Adults of all ages. Young people love the music and sing along word for word, while the older relate to similar experiences and find inner strength each time they listen. Lily's most powerful ministry is the message she takes to the young girls. Sharing the message, that God loves them as his beautiful daughters that they can be stand out without dressing and acting the way the rest of the world may be. Lily exemplifies her message by dressing modestly, showing the world that you can still look attractive without showing off your body. She is committed to communicate the good news of Christ's gospel to her audience. Lily has been blessed with the ability to influence with her presence alone. Her mission and light, more than anything else, is what sets her apart. The power of her message is manifested when listening to her music or feeling of her presence on stage. Her song "Don't you See" and "All the Way" demonstrates this as they were both selected to compete for Song of the year in the Gospel Music Association. One fan wrote her "You are and will be a blessing" She's beautiful, She is talented, She's an inspiration, full of love, full of dreams.... She is Lily Rubio!
