"The band shimmers with the radiance of a distant mirage in the wild desert air - languid with a bit of twang like the great Giant Sand while pulsing with the mildly demented playfulness of Elf Power."

-Rockpile 12 MP3 Songs POP: Quirky, ROCK: Psychedelic Details: "Moving on a crooked path between albums and members, Sunset Valley has, for the moment, found a perfect point. Singer and sometimes solo artist Herman Jolly, with Jonathan Drews, and Eric Furlong (also of 44 Long), have created a solid and moving album that pulls your heart and rocks your brains. Picking at tones that fly like bands from The Grifters to T. Rex to the Clash, and beyond, the songs are simple and catchy, hard-edged and happy, silly and sad and full of life. Speeding like science fiction from surreal obscure ecstasy to songs straight-up-with-a-twist and almost radio friendly, Sunset Valley hooks you like a fish, and reels you in through the coldness of the icepond world, warming you up with distorted passion, and giving you music like light."
