Original rustic roots americana. 12 MP3 Songs FOLK: Modern Folk, COUNTRY: Country Folk Details: Songwriters Paul Carden and Tom Hood take a collection of well written original songs and give it a very basic and raw treatment that lends itself more to a feel of being in someones living room than a slick production CD. Richard L'Hommedieu - Long Island Entertainment Magazine Paul Carden and Tom Hood have done it again. They have released "The Ballad of The Unknown Gentlemen" featuring a variety of rootsy original tunes that sound like they came from vintage recordings. This cd is a worthy addition to a collection of well-crafted Americana. Hank Stone - Aural Fix Magazine "Ain't No Kin of Mine" and "Way Out" represent the body of work so far of the east end duo, The Unknown Gentlemen. They also represent the two different sides of this quirky, talented pair as "No Kin" demonstrates the acoustic side of the band, while "Way Out" illustrates the Gentlemen's electric side. Richard Hughes - Goodtimes Magazine It took a little investigating, but these two gentlemen are now known. Their names are Paul Carden and Tom Hood. Together, they produce the sound of a full band that kindles country, blues, folk and ol' time western Americana. Kenyon Hopkin - Island Ear Magazine The Unknown Gentlemen are members of BMI.
