All songs except Walls and Bridges have been written by Achim Schultz, he plays Hofner bass and sings the lead vocals. All titles were written, recorded and produced by Achim in his own AS-Music-Recording Studio in Munich, except Walls and Bridges, which was written by Gnther Pekruhl who is also singing the lead vocals on this track. Holger Enghardt plays his Martin and 12 String Acoustic Framus guitar, and Sandrina Sedona plays drums on this track. Achim also added some fine acoustic riffs for Gnther Pekruhl. Sandrinas Sedonas beautiful background vocals are the highlight of this highly professional studio recording. Aside of her solo projects, she was singing with Paul Young, Alannah Myles, and Johnny Logan, Spandau Ballet and David Hasselhoff, just to name a few. Mathis Riehm is the excellent studio drummer on this album. Hanno Stratmann and Christoph Stickel of MSM Studio Munich have created the sound and mastering. A video clip is currently shot of Give Peace a Chance in cooperation with Greenpeace Germany, who are very enthusiastic about Achims genuine performance and his creative visual ideas. The eye catching cover design for Think Big was created by Alfons Kiefer. The huge Hofner Bass with little Achim sitting on top of it symbolizes Think Big. The message is: More tolerance, more love, more honesty, more respect, more freedom and peace no recklessness, no aggression, and no abuse of power John Lennons deepest concerns. Achim sings Give Peace a Chance in the spirit of John Lennon 40 yeas have gone and nothing has changed. The spirit of the Beatles has always been Achims creative inspiration. The front cover of his tribute album Bye Bye George Harrison Unforgettable George (2007) was designed by Klaus Voormann, who also is a great friend of him. Achim is also very grateful and happy about the generous technical support of Thomas Jordan, general manager of Karl Hfner GmbH Corporation. The last song on this album, Jolly Goodfellow has a special story: Achim met Jolly Goodfellow, an Australian artist, in Las Vegas. He plays the Rumpel Fool in the legendary Mirage Beatles Show Love. Jolly told him that he was very cheerless. Paul McCartney had just dropped his highlight from the play list of the show: Fool on the Hill. This song, however, had a fantastic choreography and has been his great success. To cheer him up again, Achim wrote Jolly Goodfellow and dedicated it to him. Ultimately, we feel that we have created a versatile peace of music and we surely do hope That you will like some of the titles of this album.
