Mostly original songs beautifully arranged with traditional instruments alongside Celtic Harp and vocals. Themed on the lives of the early Celtic Saints of the British Isles. Sure to inspire and challenge all ages. 13 MP3 Songs

WORLD: Celtic, FOLK: Gentle Details: Carol Arblaster's music is genuine. The clarity and lyric quality of her mezzo-soprano combined with her masterful harp playing form a single voice which communicate a heartfelt devotion which only her music can express. The music of Brendan Soul is unified in its purpose and vision. The text is inspired by the lives of the Celtic saints like St. Brendan, St. Columba, and St. David. The stories of their lives have formed the context from which Carol has composed the pieces on Brendan Soul. The arrangements on Brendan Soul are fundamentally lyrical and are supported by a lush underpinning of harmony and rhythm. Though united in message, each piece has an individual character. Carol Arblaster has given every song its own air. Brendan Soul has an incredible dynamic range; some songs are incredibly wide in scope boasting accompaniment of instruments including uilleann pipes, whistle, violin, cello, guitar, mandolin, bass, and an array of percussion. Others are more intimate and feature Carol exclusively. The result is a musical journey which will carry you through highs and lows to the furthest corners of the British Isles. Brendan Soul' features many distinguished musicians including Troy Donockley on the uilleann pipes who has performed with Maddy Prior, and Maire Brennan (Clannad). This was recorded and produced by Dave Bankhead at Moonstone Studios in Southern England. celticgrace.com/
