Jagen (rhymes with w/dragon) started playing music at the age of eleven. His first instrument was the viola followed by violin. This led to bass and lead guitar as well as keys. Since then, he has become a singer...songwriter...producer. Also, not a bad engineer. Without a doubt the best thing about him is his style. There's only one Jagen. Here's a modern mix of R&B, pop and hip hop. A previous release, Chocolate earned him a spot on the Disney Channel's Two Hour Tour reality-tv show performing What Goes Around. Celebrity judge Enrique Iglesias called him "a natural". Be sure to download Jagen's new cd "MODERNAIRE" at Apple itunes, Yahoo Music, Best Buy, Napster or Rhapsody. It promises to be a success in the R&B/pop genres. Check out Rough sex or What Goes Around @jagendigital.com. See why many are calling Jagen a breath of fresh air. More than just a studio singer, he really shines live. "It's important to be able to re-create what you've done in the studio"- Jagen. If you're in New York City, you might be lucky enough to catch him at club 101 or Groove performing with his band, The Modernaires. Or singing over recorded music on an NYC cable tv show.
