As a teacher, I have been using them several times daily for the last 8 years. The elementary students and their parents and I love them and they have learned so much!!! I also teach graduate courses for teachers and they all want them for their classes. Now to add to their fabulous collection, the Troxels present a fantastic new program for learning U.S. History." - Allison Carpenter, Teacher of the Year, Teacher of Teachers at U.C.S.D. Larry Troxel, a professional percussionist and composer, spent the last three years of his life working on this project. It is well-researched and beautifully orchestrated with sound effects and great voices. It really brings history to life. Illustrated book is available with lyrics. "What an enjoyable trip it is through American history. Whether for youngsters learning American history for the first time or for quick review, History Songs will capture your attention and bring it all to life through pictures and song. The teaching and learning of American history will never be more effective or fun." - Sue Dickson, author of SING, SPELL, READ and WRITE
