This script is a guaranteed money maker. Anyone that has been in college or a school know how hard it is to write the "perfect" term paper or essay for a school project. Now you can provide term papers and essays, or anything else that is ready made that will save those people a lot of time and headache to write on their own. Many people will share their older term papers or even sell them for $1.00. This is where you can make money by providing it to them after payment from PayPal. This script has a full admin panel that features things like unlimited categories, paid banners, PayPal shopping cart with immediate delivery, newsletter system plus much more! Script is written in PHP using mysql as the backend for speed a record keeping. Also, should you decide to change the look and feel of this script, simply edit the templates in the templates folder (written in html) to make it match your current site or to make it look very original.
