Shortly thereafter, at the age of eight , and for the next twelve years, he performed as a regular on the weekly Gene Carroll Television Variety Show. During that time he recorded several records including Hercules and Baby Sitter. As a teen, his rock bands, U.S.Male and The Convention released Hey There Little Miss Mary with Buddah Records. Along with playing the piano, Ray continued performing over the years doing various club work at lounges, supper clubs and various public and private affairs. In this new age of music and recordings, something seems to be lost in the lyric and melody. This compilation represents a return to the standards with some of the meaningful lyrics and beautiful music that continues to endure. We hope you enjoy it!
