His original songs are heard on the radio in places as far away as Australia. Both as a solo performer and as a member of the comedy-music duo Faust Lewis, Wayne has done over 5000 shows. His live show can turn any evening into a party - a night full of great music, comedy, and improvisation. And most of all, fun. Lots of fun. And now Wayne has recorded a new CD of songs about many of the places he's performed around the world. There are songs here about driving in the UK, crawfish in Louisiana, the Chicago White Sox winning the world series, fudge on Mackinac Island, and many more! Along with all the funny music, the CD finishes with a heartfelt tribute to his wife, who often had to stay home while Wayne was out there performing, and a medley of two of Wayne's favorite songs - "Shenendoah" and the Bill Staines song, "River."
