Sound...
Eric uses a clean sound on this solo. He manages to get a throaty sound though by picking strongly. This helps bring more volume and sustain out of his guitar.

Rhythm Guitar...
This tune starts out with a punchy, rhythm guitar line that is strong enough to build a whole song around. He plays the chords E and D in a simple, eighth note pattern, anticipating the D chord in the second measure by half a beat. This makes it exciting.

Moderately
Guitar I

E D E D

Guitar II

He continues this vamp for the rest of the intro, adding tasty fills. The pattern continues during the verse until the release ("she don't lie, she don't lie, etc..."). Here again he anticipates the chords E, D, and C by a half a beat. If he didn't do this it might not sound so hip.
