With their mix of Rock Roll, Funk and Folk, Broken Trophy has garnered a reputation for high quality high-energy music. Now the two core members, Lewin Barringer and Simon Widdowson, have relocated to Italy and have assembled a European team to bring the music to a new continent. The bands debut album "Out Here Alone" was released in January of 2005. This album showcases Broken Trophy's amazing ability to metamorphosis from a straight up Southern Rock band to a Brit Pop group and then into Dave Mathews on the best day of his life. The wide array of genres on this CD guarantees that almost everyone out there will be able to find a favorite track. Lead singer and primary songwriter Lewin Barringer was born and raised in Philadelphia Pennsylvania USA. This energetic front man has played with country music legend Randy Travis, Blues Traveler, String Cheese Incident and G. Love and Special Sauce. After co-founding and touring nationally with the band Standing Wave which played an average of 300 shows a year, for 7 years and was represented by the illustrious William Morris Agency, Lewin has left the side -man role for his time in the spotlight. Lewin's dynamic performance style and technical proficiency on both the guitar and the mandolin truly show his love of music and for the live show. British producer/musician/songwriter Simon Widdowson, originally from Leeds, England, moved to Minneapolis and toured the US extensively in the late 1990's as a solo singer/songwriter and with a band, averaging over 200 shows a year for 5 years. Opposed to the American corporate music industry he independently released a handful of albums, which received national airplay and strong press reviews. Moving to Portland, Oregon in 2001, he opened the legendary Are You Listening? Recording Studio and Art Space where he went on to engineer and produce critically acclaimed albums for artists such as: Decemberists, Hindi Guns, Man of the Year, Pete Krebs, David Smith, Nicole Campbell, Papillon, Charmparticles, Little Sue and Stephanie Schneiderman Simon's musical contribution to Broken Trophy adds depth and color that helps create the unique sound achieved on both the new album "Out here and Alone" and in their live performances. Accompanied by two of Italy's premier players Pietro Bertilorenzi, who has performed with Tullio De Piscopo and Tony Esposito, on the Bass and Michele Leonardi, who has performed with Zucchero Antonio "Rigo" Righetti, on the drums, Broken Trophy is sure to make yet another significant impact on another music scene.
