Shuffle Artist: Obijuan Review: With your bad ass self! If I wanted to go out for a night of drinks, good times with friends, and music that absolutely can't be beat, I would make myself available to wherever you were playing! You sound like you love what you do, and have a great time doing it! I can hear the passion and emotion you put forth in every note! I'm glad I took the time to review this song, because it was a great listen! Thanks so much! TiffanyRae

----- Hey Obi! On behalf of all the guitarist on , I welcome you! It's nice to see more and more great guitarists on this site! I love listening to all the different guitar styles. It inspires me to write different things; your music in no exception, your musical talents are just as fresh as many other elite guitar 'virtuosos' on ! I look forward in excitement to see what new ideas you'll come up with! Until then! I'll be listening Bryan!

----- Obijuan : "Nasty" Initial impressions -
Standard.....page - LOTS of info - Certainly seem to be an established and accomplished musician. Well I was ready to jump all over your introductory post claiming to be an 'explosive' guitarist.....but WOW! that is exactly the word that came to mind as this track blew out my speakers. To be honest when I saw the listed influences I thought 'Oh no....not yet another instrumental guitarist that's all flash and no substance.' I mean I am certainly impressed by the Vai and Satriani wannabes but their songs usually leave me a little bored. Lemme just say I was NOT at all bored with this one. That's a hell of a riff. And what I most appreciated was that the rhythm drove the song - you stuck with that killer riff and didn't add a lot of lead guitar Satriani-like noodling on top of it. Great tone - excellent production qualities. Explosive and 'Nasty' are apt descriptions. My only complaints? The somewhat abrupt ending...(not a fan of songs that just suddenly end) and more importantly.....the download option is turned off! I rarely download songs but I wanted to get this one! Hell of a song! !! Thanks for submitting your music for review.

----- Nice range, shows promise! Artist
Obijuan learjeff Review: Nice range of material, showing real promise! Nasty is high-energy, hot, and --well-- nasty, with just a little flavor of the exotic, like spring break on a sultry night in Cancun. RGB Lala goes to the opposite extreme, lyrical and melodic and with a clear Flamenco influence. Promising vocals. Free is a well-titled instrumental. Acoustic guitar back track with rhythm section and sailing fuzz guitar. Classic rock harmonically, with interesting tempo changes. Para mi Madre is (just as you'd guess) another song with heavy Spanish/Latin influence. Acoustic lead guitar over acoustic guitar and congas keeps it nice and mellow, but not without backbone. Boricua Fuego de mi Alma combines the Latin influence with progressive rock styles in an upbeat and aggressive instrumental with electric lead. Americrapp combines Canto style with rap and makes it work. The song is not offensive as the title might suggest. She Says is a snappy acoustic/pop song, and the best produced of the lot. More good vocals.
from: learjeff You have been selected to perform at the Connexion International Music Festival. Leslie R. connexionfestival ----- You're precision with the guitar is surgical. Beautiful work. Thank you very much for the add. Leo ----- You are the master of the guitar, my friend!
Your songs are very well produced, and are amazing from beginning to end. In each of the three genres presented here, the songs were played with a great deal of ability! Every instrument involved, in fact, was in perfect check!! The melody in each track was magically brought to life by an eclectic guitar performance, that left me speechless! Your speed and control is outstanding!! It seems as though you were born with an extraordinary talent to share with the world! You are a top notch performer, and I for one am a big fan of yours already!! Keep the music coming!! I will be listening for sure!!!! Heather L.

----- Passionate or wot? This is so passionate. The percussion is spot on, well everything is. That guitar must have had to have its flames put out. Its full of life, and fire. It reminds me a bit of some of the "Final Fantasy 8" music (only a bit , and only the feel, and it was a while since I played it...honest) I have heard some brilliant music from today's uploads, but this is the most passionate. Gill W. Production: 10 Originality: 10 Structure: 10 Talent: 10 ----- Very cool Nice spacey guitar intro, takin' me back to Hendrix here! Wow, you are a great guitarist! This has a good ol jammin 70's feel to it. You really know how to create an intense atmosphere, good stuff. Rolandman

----- experimentation at it's best" You my friend are the icing on the cake! Too sweet to not be fatttning! it is well produced, yet gritty... like good music should be! if this isn't talent... then i'm confused on what that word means! mollyco ----- Sweet Now this I like. Hendrix meets Santana. Killer melodies here, you are a talented guitarist, I take my hat off to you. My only quibble here is that I think the lead guitar should be more prominent here. Aside from that, sheer class. joeyjojo

----- Hi Obi: Where did you come from? Incredible work! I am very impressed and inspired. Rhonda Kelley President Rainmaker Public Relations ----- Obijuan is master... -Blistering guitar playing -Obijuan is master musician -Definitely worth listening to -Budding guitar players could learn a lot from this track. -Hot hot hot Likedis -----
