When you think of Forex, you immediately think of trading stocks but thats not the case. Forex is much different than trading stocks. If you want To Trade successfully You Need To Learn To Spot Trends Quickly! Complicated charts cluttered up with all kinds of indicators might help you forecast the market. The market as it was the moment you made those charts, that is. How is that going to help when the market changes on you? Thats a huge waste of time, making long and complicated charts that can become irrelevant at the drop of a hat! The plain truth is that improperly used technical indicators do not reflect those changes quickly enough to be of much value to most Forex traders. They lag behind the market just enough to cause some real problems. If those indicators are the only tools at your disposal, you just dont have the tools you need to stay on top of the changes. You cant adapt. Youll be trading on a market thats already vanished. Big Time Traders Dont Trade Like That!

People like you and I are very different from the big commercial traders. The big dogs trade thousands of lots at a time, worth millions of dollars. They trade for banks, governments, and large corporations. They trade for people who do not accept failure. The big time traders survive by being in the right place at the right time. They cant afford to be wrong! Big time traders are able to see major trends days and even weeks before they take place. They anticipate tomorrows market, not yesterdays market. They dont see ahead like that by relying on technical indicators and black box systems. They cant afford to waste that much time. They cant afford to be behind the market. They cant afford to be inflexible.
