Big progress ups, anthemic choruses and thrilling present antics makes Accidental Angels a band you can't ignore. Accidental Angels are a Commercial Rock four piece hailing from South London. The band have been together since October 2004, playing the London circuit with their own brand of aesthetic shake Their introspective assessment of the world and cool rock swagger emerges not only through their music, but it's their powerful and energetic present performance that makes Accidental Angels undeniably thrilling! The groups' songwriter James Daley interprets; triumph, tragedy, redemption and disillusionment through his lyrics and melody with gritty, hard-driving conviction, which has become the bands signature sound. James- the front man aka 'Stadium James' knows how to work a crowd into a frenzy Chris - the quirky, beanie-wearing guitarist, never caught without a ciggy hanging from the corner of his mouth Ronnie (on bass) - The nutter from Calcutta! "Will sleep when I'm dead"! Marco (Drums) - the Italian dynamo! Wild, crazy and innovative Accidental Angels: Played in front of audiences of over 800 at venues such as Sound, Leicester Sq, The Barfly, Camden, Underworld, Camden, The Garage among many others. Dedicated, ever-growing following of over 100 people Album sales are increasing at every live event
