Born in 1948 in the small Southern California community of Azusa, he was drawn to the piano at the early age of 4. This God-given gift was encouraged by his mother, Benita. She had a tremendous love for music, especially the piano. Her passion for music was carried throughout her life. It is not surprising that the piano would be Dan's destiny. While serving in the U.S. Navy from 1967-1973 during the Viet-Nam era, Dan formed a 5 piece band that would perform for his crewmates onboard the U.S.S. Alamo LSD-33, as well as performing for crews from other ships when on deployment. After touring the U.S. for 10 years as a musical arranger and pianist in show bands, Dan settled in San Diego where he joined forces with 3 top notch musicians. This group was well received and quickly built a following that would last over 2 years. It is also where he would meet his best friend soul mate, his wonderful wife Janice. They were married in San Diego in 1986 shortly thereafter relocated to Lake Tahoe. He performed concerts with the Jordanares, the original back-up vocalists for Elvis Presley, Patsy Cline and Rick Nelson. In his extensive career are a number of long-term musical engagements at some of Lake Tahoe's finest, award-winning restaurants. He was also asked to perform in Australia to school children, many of whom had never heard a piano played before. Dan's music has been used for special events, documentaries, as well as video and television productions. Honored as the composer for Concourse D'Elegance, an award-winning cinematography project filmed at Lake Tahoe.
