We are a gritty, angry industrial band with just enough gothic sensibilities to keep rhythm and drown our sorrows in catchy dance beats. 12 MP3 Songs ELECTRONIC: Industrial, ELECTRONIC: Dance Details: The world as we know it is going to end and this is the soundtrack. Far be it from us to preach and drone about the how society is decaying, instead we offer a solution. We choose to stand aside from the social conventions and laugh, all the while attaining the thrilling climax of emptiness. We embrace the subculture and explore the unrestrained expression that deviating from the status quo allows. Angst, anger and aggression are all part of the human condition, and yet these things are considered taboo. We wax poetic about the societal slavery that is thrust upon us with these archaic conventions and the wretched futility of connecting with another human being. The lyrics range from post apocalyptic metaphor to a dissertation of the current world view. They can also represent the exploration of deeper personal relationships. The songs range from moody and brooding to angry and aggressive, and draw upon a significant palate of musical styles.
