Alt. Pop with Brains... 13 MP3 Songs ROCK: Modern Rock, ROCK: Americana Details: Geb Zurburg: Lead vocals, guitars Peter Duncan: Vocals, bass guitars, keyboards Jon Abate: Drums, percussion Special Guest - Pete Beckett: Lead guitar Produced, Recorded, Engineered, Mastered by Peter Duncan at Virtuality Studios, NY After one long year of conceptualizing, writing, recording, and financing this album, it was finally complete. Not many bands bragged about waking up for Sunday rehearsals at 10:00am. With such a love for songwriting and working together, not even Saturday night's hangover could stop this band from writing songs with the ever present "Sza." Echofission was originally a 5 piece jam-band with two guitars, keyboards, bass and drums. After many long, late night discussions, Jon, Geb, and Peter agreed that they would be better served as a 3-piece, writing tighter, catchier music, and would move away from the jam-band format. Once in this format, the three moved at a lightning pace and often joked about how each of the roles of the band was the perfect recipe: Geb was Research and Development, Peter was Quality Control and Sales and Marketing, and Jon was the infrastructure (heat, electricity, etc.). Unexpectedly at one band practice, with 90 of new material completed for a second album, a simple discussion about band issues turned deeply personal. Peter decided that his time would be better served outside of the band, and has since relocated to Massachussettes for a once in a lifetime executive position with a nano-biotech company. The band has recently gotten back together with their original, jam-band based lineup, with a new album forthcoming. Until then, this CD is the product of a lot of hard work, and is the result of (at the time) a great, and powerful chemistry between three likeminded individuals.
