Leigh's songs, though self-reflective, emotional expressions, are ultimately refreshing bursts of spiritual optimism. From soul-bearing ballads, to stories of relationship dramas, to happy, danceable pop tunes, her CD debut, Butterfly, Believe is a beautiful contribution to a world in need. Jenny Leigh's Message: Inner Peace Empowerment Leigh explains the concept behind her music, "It is my personal desire to fulfill my mission as an artist who can, in the words of Buddhist Peace Leader, Daisaku Ikeda, 'make a positive contribution toward a society in which cruelty, violence and darkness can be overcome through a spirit of empowerment and compassion.' By successfully performing positive music, including songs from my CD, I feel I am making a strong statement 'for artists themselves to be recognized and valued as making great contributions to peace and humanity.'(Ikeda) For these reasons...I feel a strong responsibility and passion to create music that has the power to encourage, comfort and inspire. 'Butterfly, Believe' is the beginning of many more efforts to accomplish these goals."
