Details: In 2001 I had handed to me what most musicians dream of, a record contract. It was one of those insane moments in life when you finally get what you wanted only to realize its not what you thought. Since then I have dedicated my life to the art of writing music. Im not concerned with making money or being famous, just creating the best music I can. I have performed with Kenny Loggins, Billy Joel, Michael McDonald, and many others. Its my hope that my music makes a difference. That it will inspire and assist people on the journey of their life, on their spiritual journey. I have had people tell me it has made them laugh till they cried, I have also had people tell me that my music saved their life. That is the greatest reward any artist can ever receive.
