Irresistably catchy yet sophisticated, this is crunchy pop music on the outside, gooey metaphysical insight on the inside. Sure to please fans of ELO, Ben Folds, and yes the Beatles. 11 MP3 Songs POP: Beatles-pop, POP: Party Pop Details: By this point, if you have not, then right now, do yourself a big flavor and take the purple button to "hi fi," it sounds much better. You deserve it. This album took six years to make, and Bob has cut no corners in delivering a full-scale listening experience. Literally thousands of dollars of the Hinrichs fortune were invested in this project, and it shows. Bob is a multi-award-winning composer who emerged soaking wet from a musical gene pool. He is cousin to Doug Hinrichs (see his CD on CDBaby), Tom DeLonge (yes of Blink 182), and to Mark Hinrichs (formerly of Musico), etc. Therefore you should buy this record, Q.E.D. Growing up in Lincoln, Nebraska (the one in the United States) probably contributed to Bob's twisted side. Living in San Francisco for the last decade and a half gave him his pop polish and crowd-pleasing style. If nothing else, Bob is all about spooling in new unsuspecting fans, who stick to him like flies to a magnet. "...fearlessly eclectic...pop-oriented fusion" --Daedalus Hyperboreus "...poised to set a whole new standard for pop music in the San Francisco Bay Area." --Gene the Bean, Rothchild's Managerie, July 1, 2003 You need some new music. Think of how some records have literally changed your life. Guaranteed: this one will. To some degree.
