The Unseen Guest is an acoustic song telling about God being with us throughout our life and is watching at all times. Chapmansville is an acoustic song which I dedicated in loving memory of my grandparents Easter and George Chapman on my mothers side. Easter and George lived in a large house in the middle of the town of Chapmansville. Easter and George would always have their door open and welcome everyone in especially for breakfast and sometimes lunch and dinner. Easter would get up early in the mornings and prepare a huge breakfast spread and I remember her kids, grandkids, postman, local business owners the preacher and other folks which I didnt recognize dropping in to eat. My grandmother called them bone pickers because they cleaned up all the food down to the bone. I Love my grandparents dearly and the memories will never fade away. This is something you wouldnt see today. I hope will take a minute and review the CD and drop me an email and give me some feedback and chat. Give the clips a listen and order today. God Bless, Delano
