Melodic underground rock featuring lyrical tales of the broken hearted and dramatic hooky pop guitars makes for intelligent, independent music along the lines of Radiohead and the Foo Fighters. 13 MP3 Songs

ROCK: Modern Rock, ROCK: Emo Details: Earwig's new album, Perfect Past Tense, is like a breath of fresh air in a stale indie-rock world. On their latest indie release, Earwig combines the melodic sounds of bands like Radiohead, Elliot Smith and the Foo Fighters with heart-on-yr-sleeve lyrics and dramatic guitar riffs to forge a sound that is theirs alone. The top notch songwriting only helps to make this a disc that will have you leaping out of your chair in spontaneous fits of air guitar strumming. Earwig works the space between studied lo-fi ineptitude and infectious pop hookery and cuts to the heart of what makes us like to listen. Bred from garages in Columbus, Ohio, Earwig sends honest and passionate feelings thru lyrics and no-frills musicianship. A largely unknown midwestern three-piece who are often compared to the likes of Pavement, the Foo Fighters or Built To Spill, they are one of the best underground bands in America. With two successful albums under their belt and a third recently released, it's time for Earwig to crawl out of its nest and find its way directly into the ears of people interested in hearing some quality, punchy music. Including yours.

Gestated in 1992 in Columbus, Ohio, Earwig has won over its share of fans, critics and industry insiders. The band's full-length debut, 1994's 'Mayfeeder,' has sold roughly 2,000 copies, and the live follow-up, 'Bored in Chicago,' has done equally well. While supporting 'Mayfeeder,' Earwig toured extensively nationwide, infecting fans across the country with their big hooks, melodic guitars and lyrical tales of the broken-hearted. In addition to several online publications, radio stations and fanzines, including the popular Compuserve site, Earwig was featured in Entertainment Weekly as being part of the next big music scene. Leaping back into the studio with the help of multi-platinum producer Jared Kotler (Marcy Playground) and their own Lizard Family Music label, Earwig has recently released another pop masterpiece, 'Perfect Past Tense,' that will continue leading the band on its way to the top. Enjoy. And become part of the ascension.
